Reporting Screens Review	Sayfa No: 19

On my nineteenth day, I presented the reporting screens I had developed so far to my mentor. I demonstrated the summary and detail tables, filtering features, and Excel/PDF export functions I had prepared in the Stock and Clothes modules.

After the presentation, it was noted that my work was generally functional and fit for purpose. However, I received a few small suggestions to improve the user experience. Today, I implemented those suggestions and confirmed that all features were working correctly. As a result, the reporting screens became more user-friendly and professional.
